Meet a Reader:

Anna Catherine and Cindy Rose

Each month, we ask our readers to answer a set of questions as their doll for the chance to be featured in the upcoming issue. This month's winner is Anna Catherine and her doll, Cindy Rose!

DM: What is your favorite hobby?

CR: Blogging. I love finding new things to share with my followers!

DM: Describe your ideal Sunday.

CR: My ideal Sunday would be getting home from church and taking a good long nap with NO little sisters interrupting me! 😊

DM: Your good-luck charm is...

CR: My stuffed mouse, Jac. He's always there when I need a good cuddle!

DM: What is your favorite quote?

CR: "Even miracles take a little time." – The Fairy Godmother

Thanks a bunches, Anna Catherine and Cindy Rose! ♥

Dear Readers,

It's hard not to smile when birds are chirping, flowers are blooming, and the sun is shining, so it's no surprise that the Doll Mag team is a fan of spring. We anxiously await the moment when going outside calls for us to take off a layer, not add another one on! We channeled our love of spring when working on this issue – easier said than done when mounds of snow are still outside your window. Nevertheless, we're pleased with the final result, and we're even more excited to share it with you. Happy spring!

SHOP OWNER spotlight Virginia at The Lady's Resource Shoppe on Etsy

What inspired you to start your shop?

I had been making doll clothes for my little sister, her friends, and myself for a long time and really wanted to make a go of my own little store... It was something I had dreamed about putting together for a very long time.

See our full interview with Virginia on Monday, March 9th!

DEAR GABBY, I am going to be a new student at Mattel High. There are so many different types of girls there: Barbies, Monster Highs, and Ever After Highs. I don't know if I'll ever fit in. Can you tell me how I can make new friends? FROM APPLE

A: Starting at a new place can be hard. Be sure to smile and be friendly to your peers! Try joining some clubs or other after school activities – they're the perfect place to meet people who share your interests. Who knows? Some of them might become your life long friends! FROM GABBY

DEAR GABBY, I'm friends with Emily and Lisanne, and I hang out with them all the time. Can they both be my best friends, or can you only have one BFF? FROM MOLLY

A: Who says you can only have one best friend? It sounds like you really enjoy both of their company, and that's perfectly alright. Maybe you can even come up with a few activities all three of you can do together! FROM GABBY

SPORT

a new do

Spring sports season is almost here! These stylish hairstyles easily transition from practice to her next game.

BY BELLA; MODELED BY
PAYTON AND CECE

Cece is a star in track and field!

Payton loves to play tennis in the spring!

TWISTED pigtails

At your doll's part, begin twisting hair back towards her ear. Continue adding hair until you reach just past her ear, and secure it into a pigtail. Repeat on the other side.

BUBBLE braid

Pull your doll's hair into a high half-up style, and secure with an elastic. Add more hair to the ponytail, and secure with an elastic a few inches down. Repeat until all hair is added, and you've reached the ends of your doll's hair.

eat your Greens

Fill up your doll's garden with spring veggies when you whip up these easy crafts! By Bella

Lettuce

Cut out a small circle of light green foam. Cut out a rectangle that can wrap around the circle to create a cylinder, and glue together. Glue layers of green, yellow, and white tissue paper to the cylinder - wrinkles are okay, and even encouraged! Finally, stuff tissue paper into the middle of the cylinder.

Carrots

Wrap a dark orange pipe cleaner around a pencil or pen. Use your finger to widen the top of the spiral; stick three dark green pipe cleaners in the middle of the spiral for the carrot "stem." Repeat to make as many carrots as desired.

Sugar Snap Peas

Cut out two identical crescent shaped pieces of green felt. Stuff with batting, and sew shut with coordinating embroidery floss. Repeat to make as many as desired.

Celery

Cut out thin identical rectangles from light green and white foam; glue together.

little bit of luck

You don't need to spend hours of crafting to celebrate St. Patrick's Day! These two crafts are cute, simple, and can be used all March long.

Crafts made and article written by Bella.
Thanks to Nicki for modeling!

shamrock clip

This tasteful hair accessory is festive, but not over the top. It brings St. Patrick's Day cheer to a classic half-up hairstyle!

Use a black marker to draw a small heart on a piece of dark green felt; cut it out with scissors, and repeat to create four hearts total. Use the marker to trace a smaller heart on light green felt; cut it out, and repeat to make three more hearts. Attach the two layers of hearts with hot glue. Cut out a tiny heart out of pale green foam; glue it to the center of the shamrock. Attach the felt piece to a ponytail or clip with glue, and let dry.

good luck cards

Pull out your markers and paints! These colorful cards will brighten up your doll's day before a big game or a tough test.

Cut out a small rectangle of heavy cardstock with scissors, and fold in half. Use acrylic paints to decorate the card with a shamrock {light and dark green} or a rainbow {red, orange, light green, light blue, and purple}.

Write a positive message with a felt tip pen or marker.

Three of a Kind

Chrissa Maxwell, Sonali Matthews, and Gwen Thompson might be American Girl's most popular trio of best friends. Although they have been long retired from the GOTY line, these three girls are as kind and cheerful as ever.

DM: The good friends you are, you must hang out all the time! What are your favorite things to do together?

C: I love doing anything with Sonali and Gwen, but it's always really fun when they sleepover at my house.

S: Yeah! My painting skills have improved a lot after decorating so much pottery.

G: It's really fun. Chrissa's llamas are just so cute!

DM: Speaking of llamas, how are they?

C: Really well! Starburst is adorable and has already learned a lot.

S: I think Starburst and the others like me... But that may just be because I always have food for them!

DM: And Chrissa, you were an avid swimmer. Do you still enjoy it?

C: Swimming has been awesome. Next year, I plan on trying out for the varsity team, with Sonali and Gwen, of course!

G: Sonali and Chrissa have been really awesome by coaching me over the years. My strokes have gotten much better - I've come really far!

DM: Chrissa, can you share a bit about your relationship with your parents and Nana?

C: I help Dad in his pottery studio on the weekends, and I'm always up for a trip to check on the llamas with Nana. I also love relaxing with them by watching a movie or discussing our day at the dinner table!

DM: Do you still sew?

C: Yep! I've been busy experimenting with new textures and patterns.

G: Chrissa's really great at it! She recently made us these really cute handbags. Mine have become my favorite thing in my wardrobe!

S: Now you just need to teach me!

DM: Thanks you three!

C: You're welcome! ♥

barbie

Barbie's legacy lives on, even 56 years after her debut. Famous as ever in the doll world, she's come to symbolize the power of girls – and a good pair of shoes!

March 9th, 1959 is an important day in doll history; Barbie debuted at the American International Toy Fair in New York City and was an instant success! Created by Ruth Handler, Barbie sold for just three dollars at the time of her release. It was only a matter of ten years before the public spent over 500 million dollars on Barbie products, and her cultural impact has only increased since then.

Though Barbie does not sell without criticism, her efforts in redefining traditional gender roles cannot go without notice. As the official “Barbie Day” comes near on April 3rd, we encourage all to take a look at this iconic doll's history. From her endless run of careers to her large and loveable group of friends, Barbie has changed the toy industry – we argue for the better! ♥

meet the family

It can be hard to keep track of Barbie's large family and number of friends! Here are the key figures you'll want to know.

barbie roberts

The star of the doll line, Barbie debuted in 1959 and has since gone onto hold all sorts of jobs, including astronaut and race car driver.

midge hadley

Barbie's best friend? Freckled cutie, Midge, a 1963 release.

kelly/chelsea roberts

Barbie got a toddler sister, Kelly, in 1994. She was retired in 2010, but returned as Chelsea the following year.

ken carson

Barbie's most well-known beau, Ken Carson, was introduced to the famous line in 1961.

skipper roberts

Barbie's first sister, Skipper, came out in 1964, and she has made many appearances throughout the line.

Barbie's younger sister Tutti came out in 1966 and retired in 1971. She later came back as Stacie Roberts in 1990.

tutti/stacie roberts

through the years

Barbie has received plenty of attention in the doll world for over fifty years. – and for good reason! She has had hundreds of jobs, bunches of friends, and traveled the world. Take a peek at her most famous accomplishments!

1959 Barbie debuted at the Toy Fair in New York City in March.

1961 Ken Carson, Barbie's popular boyfriend, came out two years after her release.

1963 Barbie's bestie, Midge, joined the group two years later.

1964 Barbie's sister, Skipper, was released in an effort to give Barbie a friendlier image.

1966 Double trouble arrived with Barbie's twin siblings, Todd and Tutti.

1968 Barbie's group of friends grew; new releases included her British cousin, Stacey, and her first Black friend, Christie.

1970s Barbie was big on exercise and long hair throughout the '70s. She could be found playing tennis or performing!

1984 Even Barbie wore the leg warmers and headbands of the '80s!

1986 LOUD music! LOUD hair! LOUD look!

1990 Tutti returns as Stacie, but her brother, Todd, does not.

1994 Totally Hair Barbie is released – the highest selling Barbie doll to date!

1999

2009 Barbie celebrates her big 5-0!

2011 A famous couple reunites: Barbie and Ken get back together in 2011.

2004 Barbie and Ken shock the world with the news of their break-up.

2015 Barbie kicks off the year with loads of new careers including scientist and pilot.

Barbie's popular web series, Life in the Dreamhouse premieres.

Barbie makes it to the big screen as a character in Toy Story 2!

WHIZ KIDS

Get the details of the short-lived (but much beloved!) Karito Kids line. These girls will make you want to hop on a plane this instant!

When the Karito Kids dolls first hit shelves in 2007; the original lineup included characters from Mexico, Italy, the US, Kenya, and China. With an altruistic bent (after purchasing a doll, customers could use accompanying website codes to donate to charity), the collection was a generous spin on the globe-trotting theme that defines so many doll lines today.

Despite being sought-after toys, the Karito Kids were retired in 2011. They can still be found at second hand retailers today, and they remain in the hearts of collectors and kids around the world ♥
